ABOUT ME

Hello, I'm the Founder of Envision CCE and a graduate of the University of California, San Diego, where I earned my degree in Bioengineering from one of the top-ranked institutions in the nation and globally recognized for innovation in engineering and life sciences.

As a first-generation college student, I know what it's like to step into the unknown. Without a clear roadmap, I navigated every part of the college journey on my own, from researching schools and applying to scholarships, to completing FAFSA and DREAM Act forms, and making the critical decision of where to attend. Every step came with pressure and uncertainty, but I approached each challenge with determination and a strong commitment to my future. That commitment led me to UC San Diego, where I not only earned a world-class education, but also gained hands-on experience through competitive internships, clinical shadowing, research, leadership roles, and professional development. I've sat on both sides of the interview table, built strong applications, collaborated on impactful projects, and connected with mentors and professionals across diverse industries.

Now, I've founded Envision CCE to help others do the same, and more.

At Envision CCE, we provide personalized guidance to students and professionals across all fields. Whether you're applying to college, preparing for an interview, seeking mentorship, or launching your first project, our mission is to simplify the process, boost your confidence, and equip you with the tools and insight you need to succeed.

With lived experience and a deep passion for helping others thrive, I'm here to ensure no student or family feels alone in the pursuit of their goals. You deserve support that's thoughtful, reliable, and rooted in real experience, and that's exactly what Envision CCE is here to provide.

At Envision CCE, our mission is to support students through life's most pivotal academic and career transitions, from high school to college, undergraduate to graduate school, and college to industry.
